

U. S. Treasury Department.

The 1804 dollar in the Mint Cabinet, cost the mint just one dollar, but on account of its rarity, (only 6 are known to exist) they have sold at public auction from $500 to $1,000 a piece. The half dollar of 1807, is worth 50 cts.

The gold dollar of 1849 is common, and only worth its face. We paid a dollar for our Cabinet specimen.)

The 1851 gold dollar is worth a dollar.

J. R.

April 29, 87

Dear Sir
Mr. Daniel. M. Fox.

as you are the manager of the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia, Penn. I write this to you.
Through the Cincinnati Enquire I was informed that you value old coins very much, for instance you paid for one silver dollar dated 1804 $100. and also for one gold dollar dated 1849 $100. I have two coins very nearly the same dates one silver half dollar dated 1807 the date is plain, it is larger around then the half dollars is now

 and not so thick, it has printed on the out-edge fifty cents or half a dollar, and I have also one gold dollar
 dated 1851, if you want them send your price list.

Yours truly

Herman M. Adams,

Address

West Florence
 Beble Co.
 Ohio

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 145

[Letter One:]

U.S. Treasury Department.

The 1804 dollar in the Mint Cabinet, cost the mint just one dollar, but on account of its rarity (only 6 or 7 are known to exist) They have sold at public auction from $500 to $1,000 apiece, The half dollar of 1807, is worth 50 cts.

The gold dollar of 1849 is common, and only worth its face. We paid a dollar for our Cabinet specimen)

The 1851 gold dollar is worth a dollar.

M^c

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 145

[Letter Two:]

April 29, 1887

Dear Sir,

Mr. Daniel M. Fox. as you are the manager of the U.S. Mint at Philadelphia, Penn. I write this to you. Through the Cincinnati Enquire I was informed that you value old coins very much, for instance you paid for one silver dollar dated 1804 $1000. and also for one gold dollar dated 1849 $1000. I have two coins very nearly the same dates, one silver half dollar dated 1807 the date is plain, it is larger around then [sic] the half dollar is now and not so thick, it has printed on the out edge fifty cents or half a dollar, and I have also one gold dollar dated 1851, if you want them send your price list.

Yours truly
Herman M. Adams

Address
West Florence
Preble Co.
Ohio

Received May 4, 1887
U.S. Mint, Phila.